

Assisted Dying for Terminally Ill Adults (Scotland) Bill

Introduction

A proposal for a Bill to enable competent adults who are terminally ill to be provided at their request with assistance to end their life.

The consultation runs from 23 September 2021 to 22 December 2021.

All those wishing to respond to the consultation are strongly encouraged to enter their responses electronically through this survey. This makes collation of responses much simpler and quicker. However, the option also exists of sending in a separate response (in hard copy or by other electronic means such as e-mail), and details of how to do so are included in the member's consultation document.

Questions marked with an asterisk (*) require an answer.

All responses must include a name and contact details. Names will only be published if you give us permission, and contact details are never published – but we may use them to contact you if there is a query about your response. If you do not include a name and/or contact details, we may have to disregard your response.

Please note that you must complete the survey in order for your response to be accepted. If you don't wish to complete the survey in a single session, you can choose "Save and Continue later" at any point. Whilst you have the option to skip particular questions, you must continue to the end of the survey and press "Submit" to have your response fully recorded.

Please ensure you have read the consultation document before responding to any of the questions that follow. In particular, you should read the information contained in the document about how your response will be handled. The consultation document is available here:

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

The thought of a pointlessly prolonged painful/degrading dying process fills me with horror and disgust. I have witnessed the prolonged and unpleasant decline of my mother, who eventually refused food, drink and medication, a process that was itself slow and distressing. If I am in a similar position, I would regard it as my right to die and would strongly resent any obstacles that were put in my way. I am firmly resolved that I would take matters into my own hands if the need arose. I have already had an Advance Directive drawn up.

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Q2. Do you think legislation is required, or are there other ways in which the Bill's aims could be achieved more effectively? Please explain the reasons for your response.

I think that legislation would be necessary for proper scrutiny and transparency and for the protection of those involved in facilitating the wishes of those who want a dignified and pain free end to their lives

Q3. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed process for assisted dying as set out at section 3.1 in the consultation document (Step 1 - Declaration, Step 2 - Reflection period, Step 3 - Prescribing/delivering)?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response, including if you think there should be any additional measures, or if any of the existing proposed measures should be removed. In particular, we are keen to hear views on Step 2 - Reflection period, and the length of time that is most appropriate.

I think the process is well thought out and practical

Q4. Which of the following best expresses your views of the safeguards proposed in section 1.1 of the consultation document?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Well thought out and sensible

Q5. Which of the following best expresses your view of a body being responsible for reporting and collecting data?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response, including whether you think this should be a new or existing body (and if so, which body) and what data you think should be collected.

It would seem sensible to monitor the process in a structured and transparent manner

Q6. Please provide comment on how a conscientious objection (or other avenue to ensure voluntary participation by healthcare professionals) might best be facilitated.

It would be best for professionals who have an objection to register the fact on a publicly accessible data base at the outset, so that there is no confusion and that other arrangements can be made with minimum delay

Financial Implications

Q7. Taking into account all those likely to be affected (including public sector bodies, businesses and individuals etc), is the proposed Bill likely to lead to:

some reduction in costs

Please indicate where you would expect the impact identified to fall (including public sector bodies, businesses and individuals etc). You may also wish to suggest ways in which the aims of the Bill could be delivered more cost-effectively.

I would imagine that any additional administrative costs would be offset by savings in not having to provide unnecessary and unwanted medical and social care against the wishes of a terminally ill patient

Equalities

Q8. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Neutral (neither positive nor negative)

Please explain the reasons for your response. Where any negative impacts are identified, you may also wish to suggest ways in which these could be minimised or avoided.

Providing that there is a level playing field and all groups have equal access to the provisions. It should not have any impact. It may be that some groups may be less inclined to avail themselves of the provisions, but that will be their choice

Sustainability

Q9. In terms of assessing the proposed Bill's potential impact on sustainable development, you may wish to consider how it relates to the following principles:

- living within environmental limits
- ensuring a strong, healthy and just society
- achieving a sustainable economy
- promoting effective, participative systems of governance
- ensuring policy is developed on the basis of strong scientific evidence.

With these principles in mind, do you consider that the Bill can be delivered sustainably?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Clearly much thought has been given to the above issues. If the proposals are accepted, presumably more work will be done to fine tune legislation to take them into account

General

Q10. Do you have any other additional comments or suggestions on the proposed Bill (which have not already been covered in any of your responses to earlier questions)?

I have always been disappointed that the issue of assisted dying had been dodged, presumably, because people have been reluctant to take responsibility in such a sensitive area. As an atheist, I have also resented the fact that certain faith groups have forced their dogmatic doctrine on the rest of us, seeking to deny us the choice as to how to end our lives. How dare they! It is refreshing that the issue is now being taken more seriously. Thank you Liam!
